DETAILED ACTION

1. It appears that the applicant is correct in his assertion that an election of species is not proper in this situation. However, the examiner believes that a restriction is still proper in this application. The examiner apologizes for the delay in the prosecution of the application.

Election/Restrictions

2. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
- I. Claims 1-4, drawn to a prompter support member for adjusting the position of the prompter, classified in class 248, subclass 429.
 - II. Claims 5 and 6, drawn to a support structure for the semitransparent mirror of a prompter, classified in class 348, subclass 722.
 - III. Claims 7-9, drawn to a masking member of a prompter, classified in class 352, subclass 4.
 - IV. Claim 10, drawn to a structure for regulating the position of a lens to which a prompter is mounted, classified in class 348, subclass 375.
3. The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:
4. Inventions I and II are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct from each other if they are shown to be separately usable. In the instant case, invention II has separate utility such as for solely supporting the mirror structure of any teleprompter system. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

Art Unit: 2612

5. Inventions I and III are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct from each other if they are shown to be separately usable. In the instant case, invention III has separate utility such as for a masking member for any prompter. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

6. Inventions I and IV are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct from each other if they are shown to be separately usable. In the instant case, invention IV has separate utility such as regulating the position of the lens of a camera to which the prompter is mounted. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

7. Inventions II and III are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct from each other if they are shown to be separately usable. In the instant case, invention III has separate utility such as for a masking member for any prompter. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

8. Inventions II and IV are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct from each other if they are shown to be separately usable. In the instant case, invention IV has separate utility such as regulating the position of the lens of a camera to which the prompter is mounted, regardless of the structure of the prompter support member. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

9. Inventions III and IV are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct from each other if they are shown to be separately usable. In the instant case, invention IV has separate utility such as regulating the position of the lens of a camera to which the prompter is mounted. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

Art Unit: 2612

10. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

11. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).
